THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE 2012 NATIONAL LATIN EXAM

The National Latin Exam, sponsored by the American Classical League and the National Junior Classical League, is a 40-question, multiple-choice test with a time limit of 45 minutes, offered to students on seven levels. On the Introduction to Latin, Latin I, Latin II, Latin III, Latin III/IV Prose, and Latin III/IV Poetry exams, there are questions on grammar, comprehension, mythology, derivatives, literature, Roman life, history, geography, oral Latin, and Latin in use in the modern world. The Latin V-VI exam contains two Latin passages as the basis for questions on grammar, comprehension, historical background, classical literature, and literary devices.

The philosophy of the National Latin Exam is predicated on providing every Latin student the opportunity to experience a sense of personal accomplishment and success in his or her study of the Latin language and culture. This opportunity exists for all students since, on the National Latin Exam, they are not competing with their fellow students on a comparative basis, but are evaluated solely on their own performance on the exam. The basic purposes of the NLE are to promote the study of Latin and to encourage the individual student.

The National Association of Secondary School Principals has voted to place the National Latin Exam on the Advisory List of National Contests and Activities for 2012-2013. This list will be distributed to all secondary schools in the United States in September of 2012.

THE EXAM BY THE NUMBERS

The 35th annual National Latin Exam was administered to 136,209 students in the three-week testing window between late February and early March 2012. This number of participants reflects a decrease of 1,610 students from the 2011 exam.

- 148,592 students were registered for the exam; 92% actually sat for the exam.
- In the United States, the exam was administered in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, and the U.S. Virgin Islands.
- Outside of the United States, 1,188 students from Australia, Canada, China, France, Germany, Iran, Italy, Japan, New Zealand, Poland, United Kingdom, Zimbabwe, and, for the first time, Taiwan participated. This number represents less than 1% of the total participants.
- The exam was administered in 2,804 schools, including 24 colleges and 16 elementary schools. 2,340 students took the exam in 427 home schools. This number remains the fastest growing population of participants.

The charts below indicate the states with the greatest number of students taking the 2012 exam and those states showing the greatest percentage of increase in participants.

APPLY FOR THE JANE HARRIMAN HALL
PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT SCHOLARSHIP!

Purpose
The Jane Harriman Hall Professional Development Scholarship is designed to support teachers in their ability to teach Latin. The scholarship was developed in honor of Jane Harriman Hall, founder of the National Latin Exam, in order to continue her efforts to bring high quality Latin instruction to students throughout the United States.

Eligibility
Applicants must be current teachers of Latin at the pre-K—12 level in a public or private school who spend at least 50% of their instructional time with students. Applicants are eligible for the award only once every ten years.

Funding
Scholarships will be awarded based on the impact they will have on students and effective use of the funds. A total of $5,000 will be allocated to the scholarship annually. This may result in one or more awards being given, based on the number and quality of the proposals.

Term of the Award
This annual scholarship may be used any time from January through December of the year in which it is awarded.

Application process:
Applications should be sent to:

SPECIAL AWARDS
There were 1,111 perfect papers in Latin I-VI. All students performing at this level received a special, hand-lettered certificate. A congratulatory letter has been sent to the principal of each school with copies for the student, the Latin teacher, and the student’s permanent record. The twenty-three students who have three years of perfect papers, the six students who have four years of perfect papers, and the one student who had five perfect papers are being sent the Carter Stubbs Drake Goad Memorial Book Award in addition to the special certificate.

On the Introduction to Latin Exam, 252 students who answered all 40 questions correctly were sent a special congratulatory letter in addition to a special certificate of merit for a perfect score.

The Maureen O’Donnell Oxford Classical Dictionary Award, given to students who win four gold medals, is being sent to 446 students this year in recognition of their outstanding achievement. The 93 students who have won five gold medals and the two students who won six gold medals will be sent special book awards. The names of the winners of perfect papers will be published in Torch U.S., the publication of the National Junior Classical League.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND MONETARY AWARDS
There were 979 seniors who won gold medals on the Latin III, Latin III-IV Prose, Latin III-IV Poetry, or the Latin V-VI Exam. These students are eligible to apply for one of the twenty-one $1000 scholarships, including one from an anonymous donor. In addition, a $2000 scholarship will be awarded for post graduate study leading to the teaching of Latin and/or Greek at the elementary, intermediate, or high school level. These scholarship awards will be announced by NLE Scholarship Chair, Ephy Howard, at the ACL Institute at the University of Nevada in Las Vegas, NV, in June. The scholarship recipients from 2011, 2010, and 2009 are eligible for an additional $1000 if they continue their study of Latin and/or Greek. As juniors and seniors, NLE Scholarship recipients must have declared a major in Classics, Latin, or Greek. In 2011, the National Latin Exam awarded $56,000 in scholarships. Jessica Kate Anderson was the winner of the Graduate School Scholarship for the 2011-2012 academic year. Jessica teaches Latin at Williamsburg Charter High School in Brooklyn, New York, and is doing her graduate work at Hunter College.

The National Latin Exam was also proud to offer for the first time the Jane Harriman Hall Award for Professional Development. This new award, up to $5,000, will be presented annually to a current and experienced Latin teacher who wishes to pursue further study in Latin teaching and pedagogy. This award is named in honor of Jane Hall, whose vision founded the NLE in 1977, and whose energy and commitment led to the exam which exists today. There were two recipients of this year’s award: Amy Sommer and Lauren Rodgers. Amy Sommer received $4,000 to attend the Vergilian Society’s summer travel and study program titled “The Italy of Caesar and Vergil: A Workshop for Teachers.” Lauren Rodgers will use her $1,000 to support her summer studies at the University of Georgia as she works toward earning her M.A. in Latin. Marty Abbott, a former member of the Writing Committee, current NLE Consultant, and Executive Director of ACTFL, is chair of the committee which administers this award.

THE NUTS AND BOLTS
In September, the National Latin Exam office sent the application for the 2012 National Latin Exam to teachers who participated in the 2011 NLE. Upon receipt of the application and payment, a postcard was sent from the NLE office to the teacher, verifying the number of applicants and informing the teacher that the exams and answer sheets would be mailed by the United Parcel Service to the exam administrator or principal by February 20, 2012.

The 2012 exam required fourteen working sessions averaging three and a half hours each to complete the work associated with the exams. In addition to the general working sessions, each member of the Writing Committee spent countless hours taking care of specific tasks such as writing exam questions, answering correspondence, word processing, record keeping, publicizing the exam, ordering supplies, and writing newsletter articles.

Clement Testing Service mailed out the exams, answer sheets, and instructions and scored the returned answer sheets. The company also mailed out the results, awards, exam answers, and a congratulatory letter to the teacher by April 20, 2012. A copy of the congratulatory letter for the principal was included in this package. The national percent correct for each question is included as well as the percent correct on each question for the individual school. Both percentages are being provided in order to help teachers and students assess strengths and weaknesses.

The office of the National Latin Exam is located on the campus of the University of Mary Washington in Fredericksburg, Virginia. The NLE Office Manager, Janine Kuty, Administrative Assistant, Ellen Smith, and student aide, Dane Lawhorne, tended to numerous NLE matters such as registering schools for the exam, processing exam fees, answering daily phone calls and e-mails, handling bookkeeping, and mailing newsletters, postcards, awards letters, and Perfect Paper Certificates.
COMMITTEES OF THE NLE
The National Latin Exam functions under the guidance and direction of four committees: the Executive Committee, the Writing Committee, the Advisory Committee, and the Scholarship Committee:

- The Executive Committee for the 2012 exam consists of Mark Keith, Co-Chair, Linda Montross, Co-Chair, Betty Merrill, Treasurer, and Elizabeth Heimbach, Member-At-Large. This committee oversees the administration of the exam and directs the work of the other committees.

- The Writing Committee consists of Mark Keith, Linda Montross, Joe Davenport, Sally Davis, Elizabeth Heimbach, Ian Hochberg, Patricia Lister, Betty Merrill, Sue Robertson, and Matthew Webb. Jane Hall and Christine Sleeper, two of the original founders of the NLE, have been honored with Emerita status. The committee began writing this year’s exams in the spring of 2011. By the middle of August it began the difficult task of reviewing and editing each exam with respect to the level of difficulty, accuracy, and content. After several revisions, the exams were sent to consultants Marty Abbott, Michael Bales, Sheila Dickison, John Donohue, Kathy Elifrits, Kevin Gushman, Ruth Haukeland, Nancy Llewellyn, David Perry, and Wallace Ragan for their in-depth critiques. Acting upon their suggestions, the Committee made further revisions. After a final reading and revision, 166,500 copies of the exams were printed.

- The members of the Advisory Committee are Susan McDonald, Chair (Florida), Nancy Czupik (Ohio), Liane Houghtalin (Virginia), Caroline Switzer Kelly (North Carolina), Stephen Lee Pearce (Louisiana), Tom Sienkewicz (Illinois), James Updegraff (California), Sandra Woodward (Utah) and Athanasia Worley (Kansas). This committee receives comments, questions, and suggestions from teachers who give the exam, and will be meeting at the 2012 American Classical League Institute in Las Vegas, Nevada, to review and discuss the 2012 exam. The members of this Committee represent the various geographic areas of the country, middle and high schools, colleges, and public and private schools.

- The Scholarship Committee consists of Ephy Howard, Chair, and members Cathy Daugherty, Judith de Luce, Gaylan DuBose, Edith Foster, Sue Gillen and Sandra Woodward. This committee reviews the applications of qualified students and awards the scholarships. Linda S. Montross serves as the Scholarship Liaison.

IN THE WORKS
The Executive Committee of the National Latin Exam is looking into the potential for offering the exam on-line. While such plans are only in the preliminary stages and will not bring about a change for the next few years, the committee realizes that this format is a necessary option for the exam to remain competitive and relevant.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS
The National Latin Exam wishes to recognize and thank all those individuals who work so diligently to make these exams a reality. The NLE continues to make a difference in the promotion and study of the Latin language in schools and homes around the world.

The NLE also wishes to thank all the teachers and students for their participation in this celebration of Latin.

ONLINE REGISTRATION WITH CREDIT CARD NOW AVAILABLE
Teachers are now able to pay for their National Latin Exams using a Visa, Master Card, or Discover Card. Because it is most important to keep the application and payment from each school together, credit card payment information can be given in two ways: The application form for the 2013 exams will have a space for teachers to fill in credit card information, or the application with credit card information may be submitted online through the NLE website. Credit card payments will not be accepted by phone since they would not be accompanied by the application form. There will be a convenience charge of $5 for each application charged to a credit card.
Again on the 2012 NLE application, teachers were asked to indicate if they taught on a semester-block (4 by 4) schedule. Of the students taking the exam, 7938 in 123 schools were taught on this type schedule. These students’ test scores were examined and compared with the mean scores of students on traditional schedules. The results are below:

A SPECIAL LETTER OF APPRECIATION

Dear NLE Organizers and Contributors,

We are a homeschooling family with two students enrolled to take the National Latin Exam this week. I am writing to thank you now, before my daughters have so much as darkened a bubble on the actual exam, for making this test and all the study materials available to us. The girls decided on their own to sit for the exam and have gone after studying with passion. They have taken every available previous test, have borrowed four different Latin I texts from their teacher to study the history, geography, and mythology, and have greatly improved their Latin skills all because of this test. What a motivator it has been! They are excited by the challenge and perhaps just as excited by the prospect of a certificate of achievement. As homeschoolers, they don’t have many opportunities for recognition and have at times pined for the ribbons and awards they see their public school counterparts receive.

As I write, they are in our living room finishing up their final prep session with their teacher. While I haven’t a clue what they are saying (wish I had learned Latin with them!) I can hear the enthusiasm in their voices. For that, I am very grateful!

Sincerely,

Michelle Koster, Mother of Sophie and Rose

Dear Nelly,

Thank you so much for making credit cards one of the payment options this year! I happily ordered my National Latin Exams online in January. I’ve been checking my credit card statement diligently since that time, and the charge for my NLE order has not yet shown up. Why the delay?

Wondering in Worcester

Dear Wondering,

Thank you for contacting us about this issue! We are pleased that you used our new online ordering option. The delay that you mention was caused by a glitch with our online system which caused all charges to be approved but not processed. As a result, the funds were never transferred to our account. We have since corrected the problem and are happy to announce that all orders have now been processed and charges should have by now appeared on your statement. We apologize for this problem and assure you that it won’t happen again. We also encourage you to continue using our online payment options since it makes the process easier for both the schools and our office staff.

Dear Nelly,

I teach Latin in a school in Canada. When I try calling the toll free number for the NLE, I get a recorded message that the toll free number doesn’t work outside the United States. Can you provide me with an alternate contact number?

Eager in Edmonton

Dear Eager,

Thank you for contacting us about this problem. Here is another phone number that will give you easy access to the NLE office: 540-654-1296. You can also always reach us easily via e-mail at nle@umw.edu.

Dear Nelly,

When I placed my NLE order in December, I thought I had ordered both the Latin III and the Latin III-IV Prose exams, which I needed for the two different sections of Latin III which I teach. However, on the test day, my proctor informed me that there were only Latin III exams in the envelope. This meant that all my students had to take the Latin III exam although some should have taken the III-IV Prose exam. What can I do to ensure that this problem doesn’t happen again?

Regretful in Radford

Dear Regretful,

We are sorry that this problem occurred, but we have a simple way to prevent it from happening again. Each year we send our participating schools confirmation postcards indicating the numbers and levels of exams that you ordered. Please check this postcard carefully each year to make sure that your order matches the exams you actually need. If you discover a discrepancy, contact our office immediately so that we can amend your order appropriately and have our testing service send you the correct exams. Also, please make sure that your proctor double-checks the materials as soon as they arrive in mid-February. An error discovered at that time can also be corrected.
Dear Nelly,

Although our school has participated in the NLE for many years, I don’t think our school received the application materials this year. By the time I called your office about this matter, the registration deadline had already passed, and so my students couldn’t participate this year. I’m upset about this situation and was hoping that your office would make some sort of exception for us. What gives?

Distraught in D.C.

Dear Distraught,

Every fall the NLE office mails application packets to all schools that have participated in NLE during the last three years. Additionally, our fall newsletter includes a copy of the application. The online order form is available on our website, www.nle.org, starting in September. It is your responsibility as the Latin teacher to make sure that you have the application materials and get them mailed to our office by the postmark deadline. If you do not receive your application materials through the mail by mid-October, call our office (888-378-7721) or e-mail us (nle@umw.edu), and we will be happy to send you the registration materials.

Dear Nelly,

Yesterday our school administered the NLE, but several of my best students were absent. I wasn’t sure if make-up exams were allowed, so I had our proctor administer the exam to the absent students when they returned to school today. Did I make a mistake in allowing these students to make up the exam? I just hated to think that they had missed the opportunity.

Unsure in Uniontown

Dear Unsure,

Unfortunately, the NLE does not allow make-up exams, so we cannot officially score these exams for you. In order to protect the integrity of the exam, we can only give official scores and recognition to those students who took the exam on the official testing date. Please inform your proctor about our “no make-ups” policy and encourage your students to make every effort to be present on testing day.

Dear Nelly,

Recently I learned that our school had an outstanding balance on our account for this year’s NLE. Your office indicated that an e-mail had been sent to me about this issue in January, but I have no record of any such e-mail. I would have taken care of this matter at that time had I known there was a problem. What can I do in the future to avoid a possible delay in receiving my school’s results because of a payment issue?

Dismayed in Dixon

Dear Dismayed,

Thank you for expressing your concern. Since e-mail is the primary way that we communicate with teachers, please be sure to check your junk mail and spam folders regularly for mail that may be directed to those locations. You might want to add our address (nle@umw.edu) to your list of accepted contacts so that you can be sure that mail from us goes to your inbox. When we send e-mails to teachers, we try to consistently title the e-mail “National Latin Exam.” If your home e-mail address is a better one to use than your school address, please include that information on your application for next year’s exam.
NATIONAL LATIN EXAM SCHOLARSHIP COMMITTEE

Seeking Applicants

Scholarship Committee Chair Ephy Howard will appoint two new members to the NLE Scholarship Committee to replace two current members who will be retiring this summer. If you are interested in serving on this committee, please fill out the application on page 13 and mail it to Ephy at the address given on the application form.

The NLE Scholarship committee is composed of six readers: three college professors and three high school teachers plus the Chair. Only two professors and two high school teachers serve as readers each year. The applications are read several times prior to the selection of the twenty-one scholarship winners and five alternates. The first screening is done by the Chair. A second screening is then done to determine which applications will be sent to the readers. Approximately ninety applications are sent to the readers for a third reading. Each reader selects his top thirty-five applications and returns these selections to the Chair. At this time, the committee members’ choices are collated, and the winners are chosen. The names of the Scholars are announced at the American Classical League Institute late in June.
